From Interaction to Interoperability

Section 1 elaborates on the role of information technology to support complex systems interactions as a key enabler of organic intelligence and viability